love!

Melynda shared a thought:

We were in oral presentations this past week and were asked the question: What are you most proud of accomplishing at Cooper? (Melynda's company)

I've not been asked that question before in that setting.

My answer was something like - we have been in business 25 years and we are still standing when many companies are not - through downturns and upswings and full employment and huge unemployment - and constantly changing regulation of contracting for our primary customers.

I am proud of that - but upon reflection over the succeeding days I have a more thoughtful answer. I'm proud of our culture of "whatever it takes" to make our customers successful. I'm proud of providing opportunities for employment for friends and family - and looking forward to employing new friends. I'm proud of having the opportunity to spend time and money giving back to the community in which I live and from which I profit.

And the entire time that I'm telling you how proud I am of all of that - I am also humbled at the opportunities I and Cooper have been given to participate in all of that. What would your answer be?

2018-2020 International Theme "EMT - Evolution, Momentum, Transparency"

Dr. Jo Murphy suggested that I remove this from our news letter heading since it wasn't an official theme. I think I picked it up from a news item about our International President Cathy Daugherty along with her picture.

Update on Sandra: She has had several tests, mammograms, sonograms, biopsies, etc., and all have come back non-malignant. She thanks you for your thoughts, prayers, and other means of contacting her and wishing her well.
